Progressive-Conservative Convention on Jan. 29

R. C. Fraser of High River, president of the Progressive Conservative Association for the Macleod Federal Constituency has announced that the annual meeting and nominating convention of that organization will be held at the Highwood Memorial Centre, High River on Wednesday, Jan. 29. The meeting will be called to order at 2.30 p.m.

This will be an "open" convention and all supporters of the P.C. party in the constituency are invited to attend. The officers for the coming year will be elected and general business of the party discussed.

A candidate for the next Federal elections will be chosen by the convention and at present at least three candidates are expected to seek that honor. They are G. Rider Davis of Fort Macleod, Douglas Galbraith of Vulcan and Dr. L. E. Kindt of High River.

Nominations will be accepted from the floor during the convention and it is expected that other names will be forthcoming at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lewis and family of Lethbridge were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ivers last weekend.

A certain school teacher recently out from England is well and favorably impressed by Canadian standards of education. Recently while driving along the highway he saw in a nearby field, a coyote standing reading a newspaper. Apparently some whimsical farmer had shot the animal, posed him in a lifelike position and propped the paper in front of him. He should not have been surprised at this for even Canadian fish travel in schools and Canadian dogs in dog shows are placed in classes.

The January meeting of the Milo United Church Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Umschied. Nineteen members and one visitor were present. Hostesses were Mrs. Margaret Umschied, Mrs. Jesse Umschied and Mrs. Bernice Thomson. The group planned to contribute to the C.G.I.T. Clothing drive for Japan.

Eight delegates from the Milo district attended the meeting in Vulcan on Wednesday night, Jan. 8, for the formation of a District Council for the Cubs and Scouts. It was decided that a District Council would be formed. Ross Bertrand and Bob Umschied are to represent Milo on this council. Elections will be held on Jan. 28. This council would originate activities and projects for the Cubs and Scouts in the district. This is a great step forward in the Cub and Scout movement and it will be quite interesting to see what the boys can do.

LIVING IN THE HIGH ANDES of Bolivia, Ecuador and Peru are some six million Indians who, because of the conditions, are barely able to provide themselves with the basic necessities of life. The governments of these three countries are working together to improve the health, nutrition, housing, education and working conditions of these people in the altiplano and to integrate them more closely into the economic and social life of their countries. The United Nations and some of the Specialized Agencies, under the overall responsibility of the International Labour Organisation (ILO), are helping in this program.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Vulcan Seed Cleaning Association was held recently in the County office, when it was decided that the campaign to sell shares in the Association would get underway immediately. New Books At Vulcan Library

Among new books received recently at the Vulcan and District Library is "Ringing the Changes" by Mazo De La Roche. This is an autobiography, which recreates vividly, the author's own life, in some ways so like the life of a "Whiteoak". She gives the reader a spontaneously written account of the childhood of one who was born with the writer's eye and who grew to use her gift for a world-wide audience.

Other worthwhile adult books added to the library shelves are: "The Firebrand," "Below the Salt," "My Love Possessed," "Square Dancing," "Whoop Up Country," "Wm. Saunders" and "Taken at the Flood". Besides these there are about 40 new books for children and teen-agers. Do patronize your library. It is a privilege not all towns possess.

Nine-tenths of the forests are owned by the people of Canada.

Young Boy Succumbs

One Dead, Five Recover When Car Goes Into Lake

A four-year-old boy died from the effects of exposure and shock and five other persons narrowly escaped with their lives when their car sank in seven feet of open water at Lake McGregor, 20 miles east of Vulcan on Monday of this week.

William Heidmiller of Staveloy was driver of the 1958 model car and passengers were his wife, their children, Brian, aged four; Morley, aged three, and Dale, 10 months, and a neighbor, Mrs. John Lengyel of Staveloy.

The group had driven to the lake to buy some fresh whitefish and after completing the transaction, proceeded to drive along the ice, close to the shore, to see some of the fishing operations. When the car hit thin ice and plunged into the water, Mr. Heidmiller managed to force the door next to him partly open and scramble to the roof of the car. Mrs. Heidmiller and Mrs. Lengyel squeezed through the car windows and were helped to the roof of the car by Mr. Heidmiller, who then went back under water to the submerged car and, one by one, brought out his three young sons.

Mr. Heidmiller managed to reach the edge of the ice and drag himself up and attracted the attention of a fisherman, Charles Fitzpatrick, a few hundred yards away, who came with a fish net and managed to drag the other occupants of the car to firm ice.

More help was secured and the victims rushed to the nearby Burnell Drummond farm house, where artificial respiration was applied to the three unconscious children and aid summoned from Vulcan: Dr. A. D. Tompkins and R.C.M.P. Constable Nuygaart were soon at the farm house and the two younger children responded to treatment, but four-year-old Dale failed to recover despite the efforts of a relay of men who kept up artificial respiration for some time. The survivors were taken to the Vulcan hospital for further treatment and all are expected to recover from their ordeal.

Circumstances surrounding the accident were investigated by Coroner Dr. Tompkins and by the R.C.M.P. and no inquest is deemed necessary.

Couples Club Installs Officers

The first meeting of the New Year of the Couples' Club of the Vulcan United Church was held Wednesday evening in the church parlors and was in the form of an open meeting.

Installation of officers was conducted by Past President Doug Galbraith. The officers installed were: Presidents, Bob and Elsie Kerruish; Vice-president, Charles and Ruth Northcott; secretary-treasurers, Gerry and Margaret Ness.

Following the installation a short business session was held, with Walter Frickeleton conducting the devotional period. Bill Shields introduced the speaker for the evening, Clayton Bricker of Lethbridge, who showed films and spoke on the services of the National Film Board Library.

Later several games were enjoyed before serving of lunch.

buy several light bulbs needed for the hall. The complete new list of hostesses and assistants for the coming two years was read out.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mabel Gooch. Plans and hostess lists for the next two card parties were discussed. It was decided to try Saturday-night instead of Friday for the next card party, which will be on Jan. 18. Crib and whist to be played. Roll call was answered by paying dues. Thirteen members and one visitor were present. Very few remembered to bring baby clothes for Korea but Gladys Rushfeldt will take care of donations of any type of clothing any time. Please remember to turn in donations as soon as possible. The raffle and game were won by Mrs. Shannon Reynolds and Mrs. Lena Burgess respectively.

A delicious lunch served by the hostess and her assistants brought a very pleasant afternoon to a close.

Kirkcaldy Farmer Dies Suddenly

Sidney Joseph Sansome, aged 69, died suddenly at Vulcan on Sunday, Jan. 12.

Born at Burton Joyce, Nottinghamshire, England, he had farmed in the Kirkcaldy district for many years.

He is survived by two brothers, A. B. Sansome and R. E. Sansome, both of Kirkcaldy; two sisters, Mrs. E. M. Hill of Calgary and Mrs. E. M. Cannell of the Isle of Man. One sister, Dorothy, predeceased him in 1915.

Services will be conducted by Rev. R. H. Johnson, at St. Aldhelm's Anglican Church, Vulcan, on Thursday, Jan. 19, at 2 p.m. Pall bearers will be Earl Galloway, G. A. Giles, William Roebuck, Joe Main, Bob Cutler and Dick Howe, all of the Kirkcaldy district and interment will be made in the Vulcan cemetery.

Curling Highlights

The executives of the Men's and Ladies' Curling Clubs have reduced the curling fees for the coming season; due to the later than usual start. Men's dues are cut to $10 from $12.50 and the ladies' to $4 from $5. It is hoped that everyone interested in curling in the past will continue to support the club this year even though the outlook is none too bright for an average season. The demand and the talk for artificial ice is rapidly gaining momentum and it wouldn't be too surprising to see it installed before the next curling season rolls around.

Rinks skipped by R. Wellman and F. Mensinger journeyed to Fort Macleod on Sunday to participate in another jackpot one-day 'spiel'. Rumors are out that the results show a, won 0, lost 4, record.

The Vulcan Ladies' Curling Club have three entries in the Eaton playoff. Personnel of the rinks are I. Middleton, V. Banks, H. Sparks and L. Houlton; E. Banks, H. Matlock, G. McKay and E. Richardson; S. Wolfe, D. Armstrong, J. Wellman and M. Haga. Club playoffs will start immediately with a winner to be declared by Feb. 1.

Vulcan rinks at the Footfalls Bouspiel held at High River last week brought home a fair share of the prizes. The rink of four Haga Bros., skipped by Ivan won the Consolation Event and ended with a won 10, lost 4 record for the week. The Gale Atkinson rink won 7, lost 3 and ended with fourth prize in the Second Event and third prize in the Third Event. John Wolfe and his foursome won second prize in the Second Event, losing the final in a close battle with Aubrey Gore of Milo. Their final average was won 5, lost 3. The only rink to miss the money was the H. Spaeth quartet which won four games, while losing 5.

Two rinks are entered in the local Canadian Legion playoffs with a winner to be declared by next Sunday, Jan. 19, when the zone playoffs will be held at Nanton with the three towns of Vulcan, Nanton and Staveloy being represented.

Curling in the mixed bouspiel got underway again in Monday, after a ten-day layoff, but weather conditions are still not the best for consistent draws and good ice.

Ladies' Square Draw rinks have been formed with a total of ten rinks. This is an increase over last year. The Men's Curling Club will certainly have to go all out to uphold their end, or take a back seat to the fairer sex.

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

H. S. Burns, Field Supervisor

The following article has been sent to us by the Field Crops Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, and was extracted from the North Dakota Agriculture Exp. Station, Bi-monthly Bulletin Vol. No. 2, and written by H. W. Heribson. It seems to us that the information and conclusions arrived at in this investigation apply equally well right here in this area, and with the kind permission of your Editor we would like to have it printed in its entirety.

Costs now eat up two-thirds of our gross income as compared with about half of the net gross income of 10 years ago. Net farm incomes are about 38% of what we had 10 years ago. The parity ratio is the lowest since 1940.

In the foreseeable future, it looks as though farmers must create their income out of "greater" farm output volume than ever—times shrinking cost price margins per unit of production sold.

This is the picture, unless we can do something to improve price, lower costs of each production unit sold, or better yet, combine price improvement and lower cost per unit produced. We must think as individuals along the lines of production volume times lower cost per unit sold, regardless of how surplus conscious we are at this moment.

Although the federal government can be of some help to us in this situation, we must try self help as a way out. The government can be of some help through policy and programs designed to provide better markets, obtain needed production and price adjustments, provide special tax concessions and to provide part of the help needed to give the farm families increased social security, risk insurance and other special programs essential to the advancement of a sound agriculture.

Individually we don't spend price or benefits. We have to get the money we spend from products sold times cost-price margins produced for market, regardless of the economic climate in which we live. There is a wide range today in production costs and profits among our farms in North Dakota.

Generally, about one in five farmers make about twice the income and net profits that all five farmers average from crop and livestock production today. One of the five makes half as much income as the average, and the other three are average.

With today's cost price squeeze on net farm income, even "average" isn't quite good enough for decent farm family living. The family below average is taking quite a beating and the top one in five is gradually taking over the land and operations of the fellow who is "below average." Much of the income and net return difference is due to management. Somehow these less profitable farms must do a better job of management.

In Trial county in 1956, costs of producing a bushel of wheat in one of the better townships ranged from eighty cents to $1.10 a bushel, and profit per bushel from $1.00 to $1.30. About one in five harvested about 20 bushels to the acre, 3 in 5 had 30, and 1 in 5 about 40 bushels. Per acre inputs were higher as yields went higher, but the net per acre cost price margins at 20, 30 and 40 bushel yields were $20.00, $38.00 and $52.00. Management made the difference where most operators have good land, enough labor, and the same access to capital and markets.

In that same county township, per acre profits from Kindred barley ranged from $9.00 to $34.00 in 1956. It does make a difference what the manager of land, capital and labor resources does in combination to create net income. In this area most of the yield and profit difference came about through differences in fertilizer, weed control and "hopper" control. With barley, some price difference was the result of care in harvesting to hold down the amount of skinned and broken kernels, so important with malting barley.

Our work is cut out for us in shoring up our farms with better management to get more profit per acre, per bushel, per animal, per man per farm. It isn't an easy job. But management can make a difference in kind, amount and combination of production aids used in timing and direction of production-sales practise, and in targeting on the level of profit the farmer needs or wants.

New Easy-Shift Manual Transmission or push-button LoadFlite automatic drive is available on light-duty Fargo models.

DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIES AND LABOUR

THE DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIES AND LABOUR plays an important role in the economy of Alberta. It makes a significant contribution in maintaining an industrial climate favorable to Alberta's progress.

THE BOARD OF INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

administers the ALBERTA LABOUR ACT which applies to all employees and employers except farm labourers and domestic servants. It is made up of six parts:

HOURS OF WORK—The General hours of work shall not exceed more than eight hours a day or 48 hours a week. In Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat however, there is provided an eight hour day and 44 hour week limit. In all areas daily limit may be exceeded by one hour but if the weekly limit of 44 hours is exceeded, overtime rates must be paid.

MINIMUM WAGES—The Board fixes a minimum wage and no employee may work for less without the approval of the Board.

LABOUR WELFARE—An employer in any industry is required to give his employees one week's vacation with pay after one year service and two weeks with pay after two years' service. In the construction industry an employee is entitled to 4% of his regular earnings in the form of vacation with pay stamp credits.

INDUSTRIAL STANDARDS—Any industry may, with the approval of the Minister, establish its maximum work hours, minimum wages and vacations with pay providing these are at least as favorable as required by the Act.

CONCILIATION AND ARBITRATION—The Act recognizes the privileges and right of employees to organize themselves for the purpose of collective bargaining. The Board has been very successful in encouraging industrial peace in its administration of this portion of the Act.

EQUAL PAY—Equal pay for women performing substantially identical work as men is provided for in the Act.

THE CO-OPERATIVE ACTIVITIES AND CREDIT UNION BRANCH

One of the functions of this branch is to assist interested groups in establishing and organizing credit unions. The credit unions provide members with a convenient method of saving and a source of credit. All credit unions are closely supervised and their books examined by the Branch to insure sound business standards.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION—Also administered are several co-operative acts which encourage groups of farmers to install their own power facilities. The Alberta farmer can electrify his farm for as little as $100.00 down with the remainder payable over a period of years.

Other services of the Department of Industries and Labour are provided by the following branches:

- Apprenticeship Board
- Provincial Marketing Board
- Electrical Protection Branch
- Employment Liaison Office
- Factories Branch
- Gas Protection Branch
- Alberta Power Commission
- Bureau of Statistics
- Welding Branch
- Public Welfare
- Public Works
- Telephone

Protection

...at your
fingertips

Safety in the automobile is optional at no extra cost. No mechanical safety device can replace the protection of careful driving.

Last year, traffic accidents claimed the lives of more Canadians than ever before. Someone was injured every 8 minutes. A car was damaged every 48 seconds. Automobile insurance claims rose to more than $150,000,000.

One result of this is higher automobile insurance rates — because what is paid out in claims must be brought in by premiums. But even more important is the fact that you hold your life, and the lives of others, in your hands when you get behind the wheel of a car.

Safety pays dividends... saves lives, helps to lower your insurance costs. Be Careful.
